INTRODUCTION

NIH NOT-OD-25-133 requires disclosure of all resources made available to a researcher in support of and/or related to any of their research endeavors, regardless of whether they have monetary value.

Effective October 1, 2025, recipients of NIH funding must implement training that specifically addresses disclosure of other support to ensure Senior/Key Personnel fully understand their responsibility to disclose all resources made available to the researcher in support of and/or related to all of their research endeavors, regardless of whether or not they have monetary value and regardless of whether they are based at the institution the researcher identifies for the current grant.

Follow the format and instructions outlined in NIH guidance.

Use SciENcv to generate Other Support.

DISCLOSURE: IN-KIND RESOURCES

In-kind (i.e., non-monetary) resources that meet all the following criteria:
- Are uniquely available to the researcher
- Were provided by a non-Emory entity (either domestic or foreign)
- Were provided in the past three years
- Are not being used on the proposed project
- Aside from the proposed project, are being actively used in support of any of an investigator's other research endeavors.

In-kind resources include, but are not limited to:
- Personnel (e.g., visiting scholars, visiting students, supported by a non-Emory entity)
- Space
- Equipment
- Materials
- Supplies

DISCLOSURE: IN-KIND RESOURCES

Note: In-kind resources intended for use on the proposed project should be included as part of the 'Facilities and Other Resources' or 'Equipment' section of the application and not 'Other Support' Active/pending sponsored project total award amount.

Note: For subawards, only the total subaward amount needs to be included.

Disclosures of Other Support must be signed electronically.
